Dent Hall Dedicated . . .

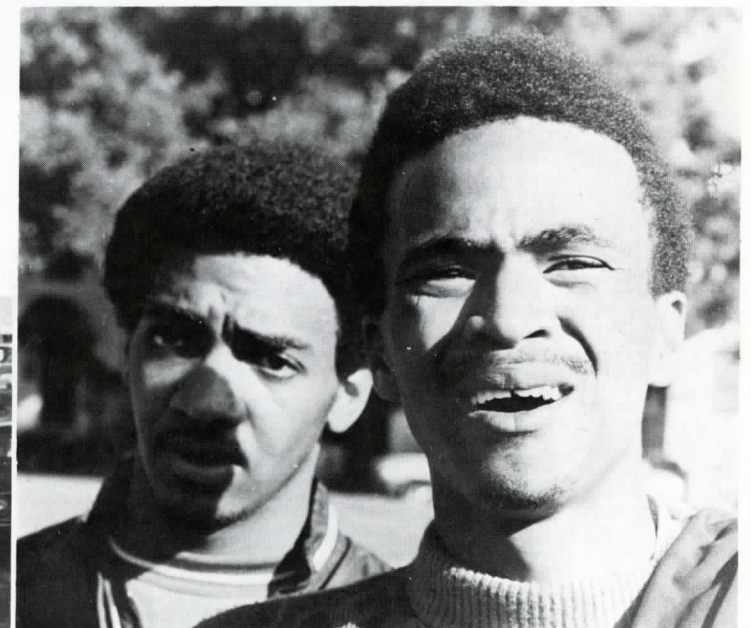

1970 saw Davis Hall, former classroom building, and Alumni Field, former football stadium, both symbols of "ole D.U." give way to the sprawling Albert W. Dent Health and Physical Education Building. The building, the culmination of a life-long dream of Dr. Dent, who retired as president of the university after 28 years, includes the latest in classrooms and physical education and teaching facilities. There is a regulation-size gymnasium with both intramural and inter-collegiate basketball courts; teaching facilities for the physically handicapped; a collegiate sized swimming pool; and rooms with mirrored walls for the teaching of cultural and ethnic dancing.

THE PURSUIT OF CULTURE—

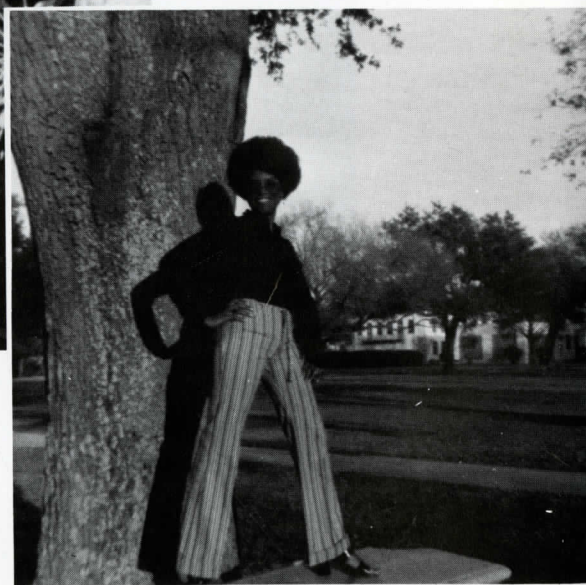

Dillard students were exposed to a number of excellent cultural attractions—The Friends of Distinction, Lionel Hampton, Yusef Lateef, The Oakland Youth Symphony as well as numerous displays of campus and community talent such as the Student Union Talent Show. A group of freshmen organized a repertory group known as the Fantasticks who performed at various times during the year. The Modern Dance Troupe also experienced tremendous growth.

Miss Margie Joseph

Dillard's No. 1 Soul Sister is gradually making a name as one of the most promising stars of tomorrow. Her hit of last summer "Never Can You Be" has been followed by "Your Sweet Loving" and "What's Wrong Baby," both quickly climbing the charts. The native of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, a

Dorm Life — An Unforgettable Experience

The Centers Of Existence

Flag football on Sunday afternoon . . .

One of the most memorable parts of the college experience is life in the dormitory. A telephone constantly busy, a noisy television lounge, screaming for the campus nurse in the middle of the night, near-nudity as the only form of air-conditioning, cold water or (as usually happens) no water at all, someone screaming "Man in the hall" when you left your robe in the room—these and many other trying moments constitute dorm life. Of course there are moments of good times—playing cards all night, winning somebody's money who bet on the Lakers, helping your slightly tipsy roommate up the stairs (with little success) and others. All in all—it's ROUGH!!!

Despite the rigors of the academic grind, the Dillard student recognizes the urgency of his unity with black people and the problems of the community. These are indeed our problems since we are an integral and important part of that world. One of the ways that students expressed this concern was a march to a black Ghetto in protest of the war.

We Love To Ball . . .

The University social whirl includes many informal dances and other more informal occasions such as The Coronation of Miss Dillard, the Coronation of Miss UNCF, and the Spring Formal. These occasions to exhibit our finery present a welcome change from the classroom. Miss UNCF, Miss Sharman Goods (above, c) is crowned by the president.

Homecoming: D.U. vs X.U.

Keeping alive an old rivalry the flag football game between the Blue Devils and the Xavier Gold Rush is a center event of the Homecoming week. Coached by Bob Perry, the Blue Devils battled Xavier to a scoreless game in this year's game. Although we didn't win, that old Dillard spirit was evident in a manner that brought back memories to alumni who returned for the festivities.

Dedication

This yearbook is dedicated to the four members of the Dillard family who died during the year—Mrs. Mary Alexander, Dr. C. H. D. Bowers, Miss Cheryl Belle and Mr. Alex Johnson, a Dillard freshman and promising tennis star.

In their memory we find unity as a university family and re-dedicate our lives to serve as a living memorial to their common love—Dillard University.

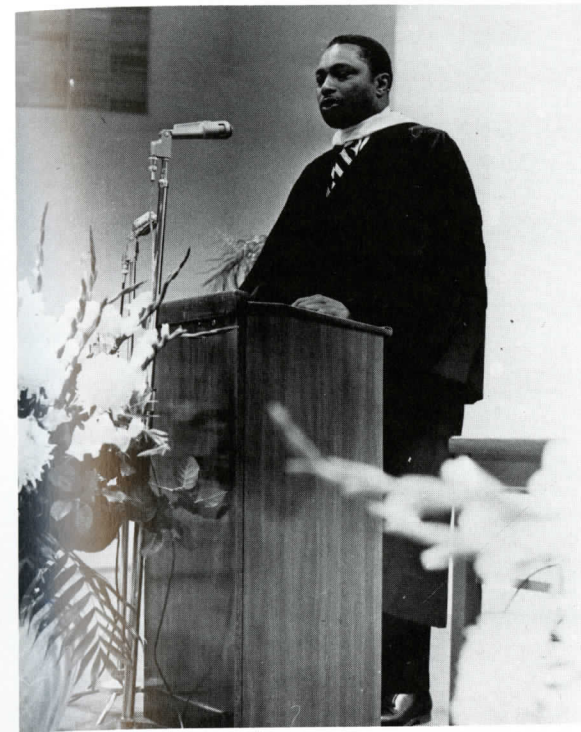

President Butler Guides Dillard During 1970 —

On July 16, 1969, as the astronauts landed on the moon, Dillard University also took a step forward as Dr. Broadus N. Butler was elected President by the Board of Trustees. Dr. Butler did his undergraduate studies at Talladega College in philosophy and he received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Michigan in that field. He is married to Mrs. Lillian Rutherford Butler and is the father of two children, Bruce, a Dillard freshman, and Janet.

At the time of his election he was Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Texas Southern University. Dr. Butler also has professional experience at St. Augustine's College, Talladega College, Wayne State University and the U. S. Office of Education, where he served as Special Assistant to the Associate Commissioner for Higher Education.

A congenial administrator, Dr. Butler was an immediate hit with the student body, especially since he is from Mobile, Ala. like a large portion of campus students. We look forward to a long and profitable association with our new president.

Dr. Butler is congratulated by Dr. A. W. Dent, the outgoing president.

Hobart Taylor, Washington attorney and longtime friend of Dr. Butler, who was special counsel to President Johnson, speaks at the Inauguration.

Chairman of the Division of Education

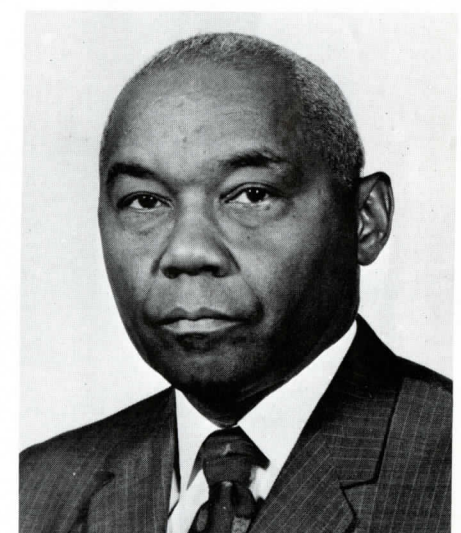

The opening of the A. W. Dent Health and Physical Education Building added another rung to the ladder of Dillard's Education Department. When coupled with the unique Education Improvement Project, located on campus, future teachers at D.U. have a definite edge. Renewed interest in the Psychology Club and the Modern Dance Group indicate the interest in this division reaches far beyond the classroom.

The Dillard Freshman Program, entitled Man in Perspective, is a unique approach to the learning process. Headed by Dr. C. R. Bryan, it consists of a core program in which students explore all disciplines and an interterm, a period in which students pursue a project within the community.

According to Professor Allison Davis, Professor of Education at the University of Chicago, Dillard has in its Freshman Core Program the nucleus for the nation's best new freshman curriculum and will prove to be of national importance.

Festival Of Afro-American Arts 1970

Anthony Cebrun, AAP, Chairman, hosts the Coffeehouse.

The AFRO-AMERICANS FOR PROGRESS, the sponsors of the Festival, moved in the direction relating it more to activism than to shallow entertainment—thus, this year's festival featured art in the form of angry black geniuses with a powerful message as witnessed in Don Lee and Sonia Sanchez. It also allowed a great deal of local talent to perform, giving them the exposure needed to make it. The Gospel Concert featured such local groups as the Gospel Inspirations and the Desire Community Choir. The Dashiki Project Theatre premiered two new works by its playwright N. R. Davidson, Jr.

The various workshops and seminars on politics, economics and art were also a highlight of the Festival and the jazz concert by Yusef Lateef ended the week-long affair.

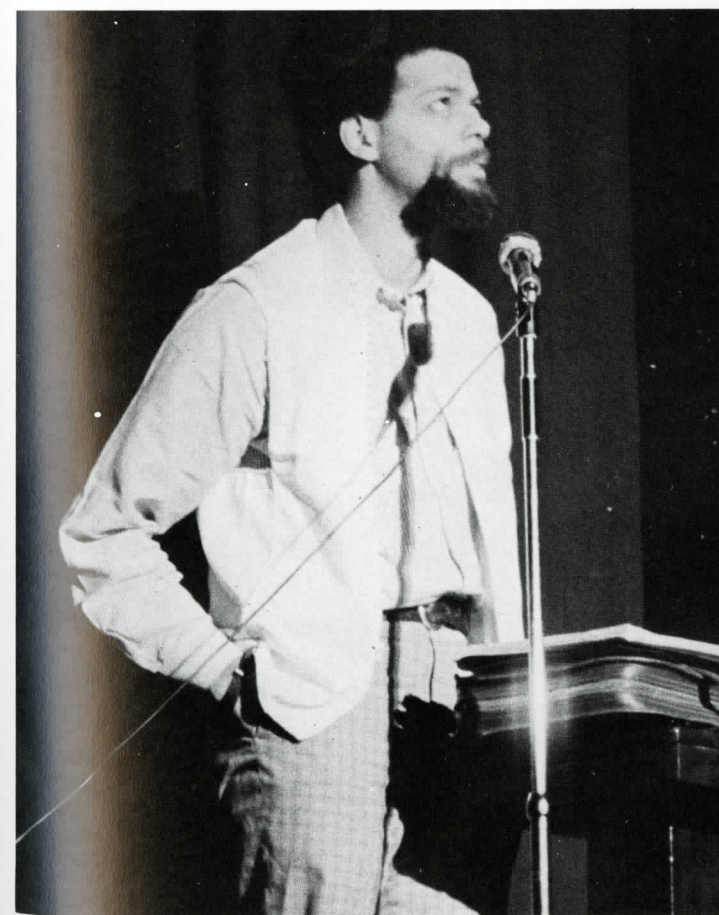

Tony moderates a panel consisting of Howard Fuller of the Malcolm X Liberation College,

Reigned over by Miss AAP, Miss Karen Dawson of Madison, Wisconsin, the festival was a mixture of serious dialogue in search for the black man's role in a world context and a lighter attempt to acquaint blacks with the rich cultural heritage that they possess.

School children from all over the city of New Orleans in the elementary grades were conducted on tours of the campus and shown art exhibits and music workshops.

Dr. P. Chiche Onwachi, Professor of Anthropology at Fisk University, addressed the campus.

Don Lee, Dynamic poet of the times, pours it on.

Miss Karen Dawson, Queen of the Festival, speaks to the audience at the Gospel Concert.

One of the highlights of the Festival was the Gospel Concert. It featured singers from the campus and the community in an extravaganza of music filled with the cultural heritage of blacks. The event was hosted by Mr. Vernon Winslow, Assistant Professor of Art at Dillard and the first black disc jockey in New Orleans.

Performers included the Gospel Gems, the Wilson Family, the Gospel Inspirations and others.

Mr. Vernon Winslow, known to his radio listeners as "DR. DAD-DY-O," hosts the Concert.

Rev. Johnny Youngblood, a Dillard student and gospel singer, entertains the crowd with "Precious Lord Take My Hand."

The organ was displayed at its best by Sammie Burfekt, a member of the James Rivers Trio and considered the best organist in New Orleans.

The Gospel Gems, New Orleans No. 1 Gospel Group. All are students at Dillard.

The Gospel Inspirations, a young group who first appeared on a previous DU event.

The Wilson Family . . . Talent Personified.

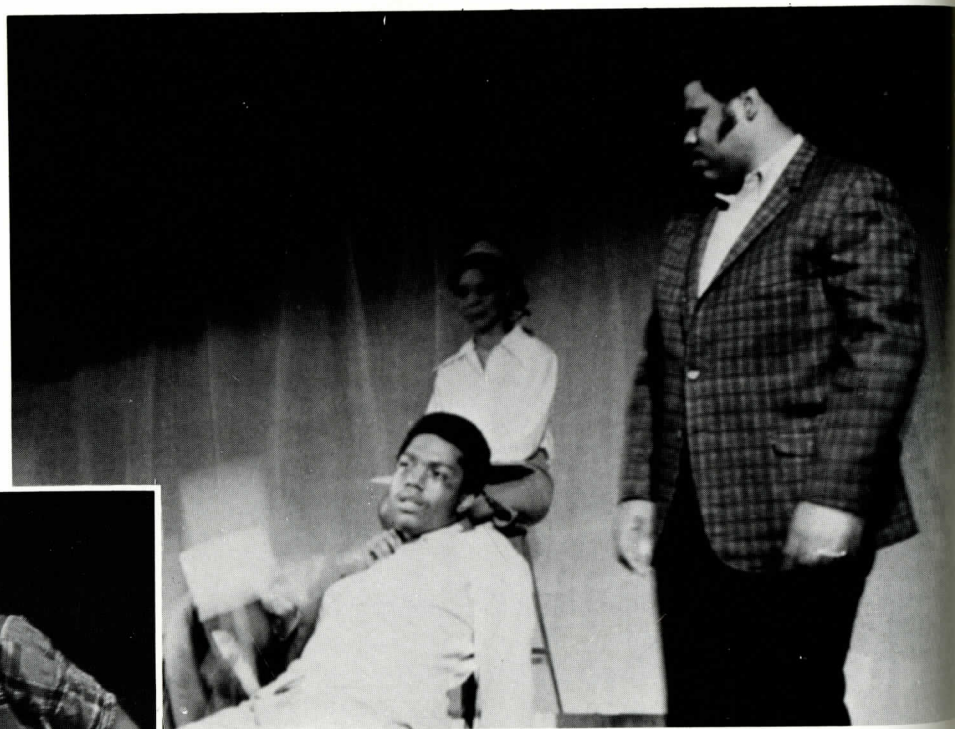

Two members of the Desire Community Choir perform a duet.

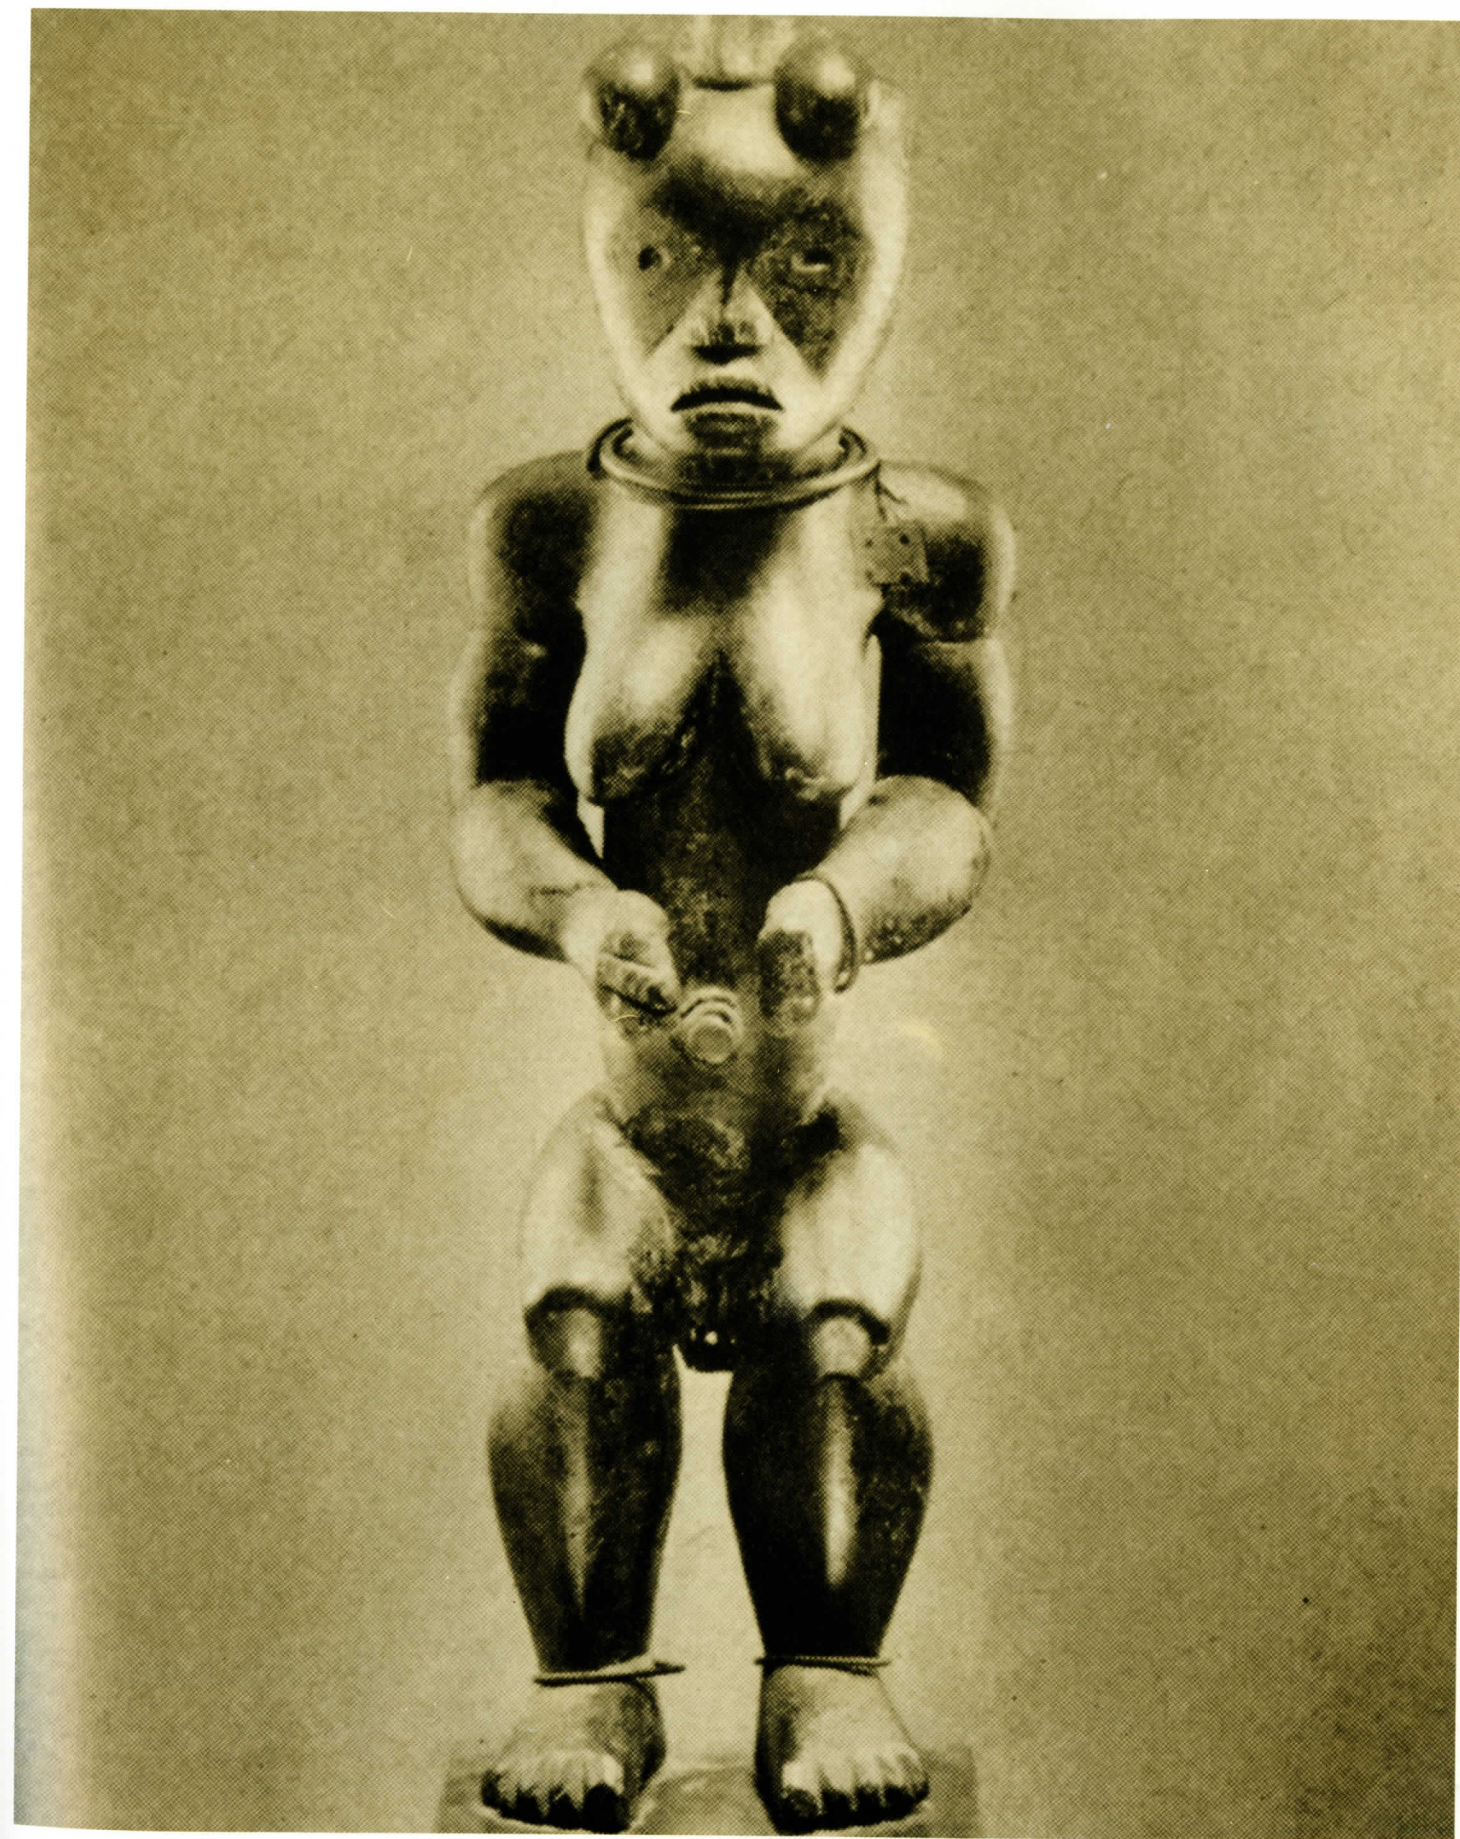

Another New Orleans choir sings at the event ...

Mr. Howard Fuller of the Malcolm X Liberation School extols the virtues of blacks taking charge of the education of their children and our responsibility to return our knowledge to the community as soon as it is acquired. He explained the curriculum which includes several African languages and self-defense, and answered questions from the members of the audience.

The Dashiki Project Theatre was a featured attraction, presenting the premiere performance of a new production entitled "Dark Laughter." Included in the production were two new works by the group's writer, N. R. Davidson, Jr. (a Dillard Drama graduate)—"Short Fun" and "The Further Emasculation of—" Above is a scene from the latter play. Opposite, a scene from "Contribution" by Ted Shine.

THE YEAR OF THE BLUE DEVIL—

Facing one of the toughest schedules in recent history, the 1969-70 Blue Devils emerged as a basketball power on a national scale. Defeating such clubs as Southern, Alcorn and Tennessee State is certainly a source of pride to Dillard fans.

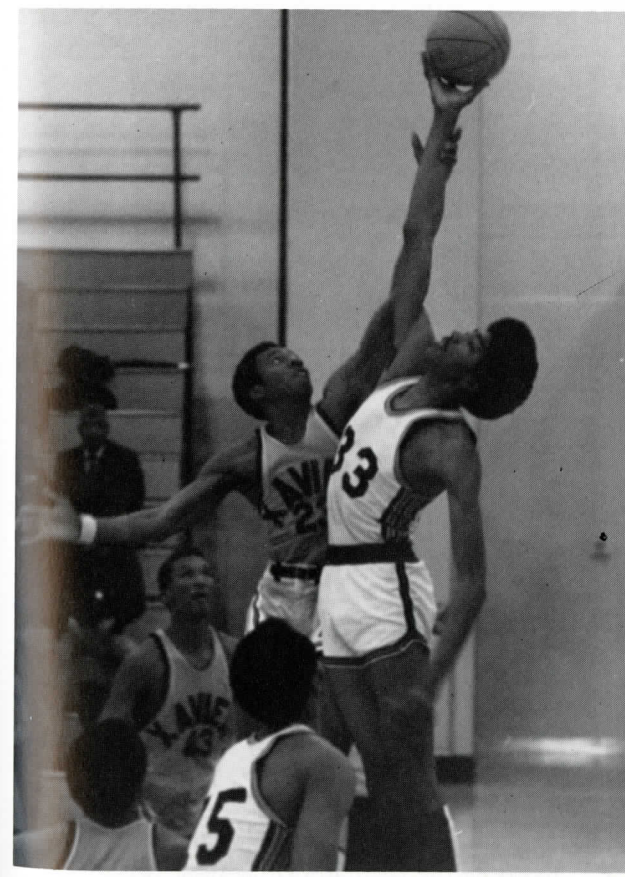

Sparked by center George Johnson, the team's MVP, Dillard's cagers rolled up an impressive record for the season and they were regarded by some as the best team in the area.

Of course, there were dim points such as the disastrous trip to Mississippi consisting of the disappointing loss to Tougaloo, forcing the Devils to share the Gulf Coast crown, and the loss to Jackson State, the only team able to beat the Blue Devils twice.

Warm-up . . .

Clem fires a bomb from the corner ... Something that he did quite often with a large measure of success. Clem was another crowd favorite.

Bobby Smith makes the shot that made him the team's leading scorer during his sophomore year.

Big Joe Taylor snags a rebound.

Eugene Lamb, a guard with a deadly long-range shot, is considered one of the bright spots in the Devils' future.

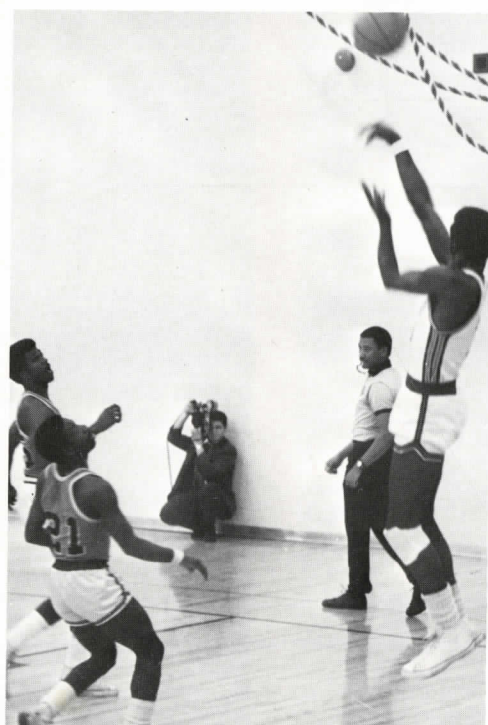

REBUILDING SEEN . . .

With the graduation of the "Magnificent Seven Plus One," Coach Brown is faced with the problem of rebuilding the Blue Devil machine.

The presence of promising varsity members such as Eugene Lamb, Jerome High and Freddie Lang, a freshman team with talent like Nicholas Caffey and an extensive recruiting program provides hope that the Blue Devils will continue to hold up the pride of DU.

Chaney brings it down.

Bust it Clem!

Traylor goes to the boards.

OVER THE HUMP—

Juniors find themselves more than halfway through their college preparation with the realization that life in the raw is just around the corner—Continue, fight it out, forget it, elope, suicide—these are questions that take on an alarming note of urgency once you're "over the hump."

REFLECTIONS—

Looking back after one year of "the life," the sophomore takes time to re-evaluate his aims and actions and tries hard to avoid the second-year slump. This year's sophomores are being given the chance to practice the theories put forth in "Man In Perspective," the freshman program that was initiated last year.
